Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Friday 21 May 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Rain and winds easing overnight.

This Evening and Tonight:
Residual rain continuing in some areas during the evening before gradually clearing for most through the night, leaving the region rather cloudy by the morning. Winds easing throughout. Minimum temperature 3 deg C (37 deg F).

Saturday:
Largely cloudy at first, but skies slowly brightening up in the afternoon. A few showers for some are possible throughout the day. Feeling rather cool for this time of year. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Windy on Sunday as a band of locally heavy rain pushes eastwards across the region. Monday and Tuesday will see showers, these heaviest on Monday with a risk of thunder.
